

EnerTrac Dashboard

Real Time Energy Tracking Right At Your Fingertips

- The first step is for NuEnergen to obtain access to your energy invoices, typically by using online portals and login credentials that we either create or share with you.
- Our team reviews the invoices by comparing them to our proprietary billing models, which simulate the expected calculation of the bill.
- We identify and alert you to any errors and coordinate directly with the relevant provider to ensure you receive appropriate resolution.

Understanding Your Energy Cost Basis

Energy bills can be quite complex, with customers often receiving statements from various providers. These bills are typically formatted differently, cover different time periods, and arrive on different schedules. NuEnergen's energy dashboard, EnerTrac simplifies this process by standardizing and reporting costs in a clear and meaningful way.

Accessible from any web-enabled computer, users are provided 24/7/365 access to utility data and are able to download a wide variety of reports. In turn, this allows the customer to understand costs and consumption such that you can make informed business decisions.

NuEnergen has returned over $50 million dollars in refunds to clients.

Spotting errors is one challenge; reclaiming refunds is another. NuEnergen's reputation stems from our meticulous approach and our dedication to pursuing refunds through all available avenues, including escalation to state and regulatory authorities when necessary.
