

What is Price Point?

Our Price Point service will send you free alerts daily about the average wholesale electricity price for your location. You can use this information to adjust your consumption patterns or take load curtailment measures to reduce energy cost during severe energy pricing conditions.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Every morning, Monday through Friday, we send you an email alert letting you know what the Average Price of Wholesale Electricity is for your location. You'll also be able to identify what level the price is.
